Pizzazz Hair Design recently hosted Redken Global Performing Artist David Stanko for a class entitled "Inspiration: The Latest in Hair Color."

Held Sunday, Aug. 19, at the Pizzazz location at Mirasol Walk, the class offered hands-on instruction to more than 25 Pizzazz colorists and stylists of the latest trends and techniques in hair color.

Pizzazz owner Dennis Marquez believes classes and opportunities like these are necessary to help his team stay in the top of its game.

"Education is key to our mission at Pizzazz," he states. "Keeping up with the latest trends and techniques helps us better serve each and every client."

This year marks the 33rd year Pizzazz Hair Design has been helping the men, women and children of Palm Beach County look and feel their best.

of Redken hair color and lightener brands. Today, as Haircolor Consultant for Redken 5th Avenue NYC, David has the unique opportunity to exercise his wide range of gifts.

First, he invents new ways to use the technology of hair color in transforming how the world sees a person. And then it's his job to teach other salon professionals to see beyond the technology of that process to the artistry of their final work.
